JEFFRIS MAKES A STATEMENT AS TO PRIMARY RESULTS

Is Optimistic Over Future of Republican Party Coming To Its Own in the State.

M. G. Jeffris this afternoon gave out the following interview as to his opinion of the primary election and its results held on Tuesday. It will be seen that Mr. Jeffris is optimistic as to the future success of the republican party at the polls. The following is the interview.

"I have finished a hard fight, made with the hope that we could carry Wisconsin into the republican ranks, and with the hope that we could have a government between the republican and democratic parties clearly presented.

"Those who were supporting me were supporting a cause, rather than a person, and I wish nevertheless to express my appreciation to each and every voter who favored our cause. As to that splendid body of high-class men all over the state who worked for my nomination, I entertain a feeling of deep personal gratitude, for while they were working for a cause most of them made me feel that they had a real personal interest in addition.

"I am glad I made the campaign because I found so many warm personal friends and met so many royal good fellows. This will always be a pleasant memory.

"AM I OR AM I NOT?" RUSS MINISTERS ASK

Against Former Methods Department Heads No Longer Grow Old in Service—Constant Changes.

Petrograd, Sept. 6.—The recent resignation of S. D. Sazonov, for six years minister of foreign affairs in Russia, and the resignation of A. N. Naumoff as minister of agriculture, to be succeeded by Count Bobrinsky, makes the nineteenth change in the council of ministers since the beginning of the war.

This record is remarkable in a country where constitutional government has never developed beyond the embryo, where ministerial responsibility is a thing of the past, and where the frequent resignations and dismissals have in the main borne no relation to party politics and that men have replaced by others of the same party affiliations and without any conspicuous differences in political views.

In the case of each dismissal there has been a complete change in the personnel of the department and the ministry of finance is the only one which has not been upset by an almost continuous series of appointments, dismissals and reappointments.

During the period of the war, there have been two prime ministers, two foreign ministers, three war ministers, and five ministers of the interior. The ephemeral character of a ministerial post in Russia has produced a considerable comment, for the most part facetious or satirical, in the Russian press. "In the morning, when they wake up," says a writer in the "Russky Vestnik," "a minister exclaims: 'Thank God! I am still a minister!'"

CORRUPT PRACTICES ACT BEFORE SENATE

MEASURE WOULD GREATLY CURTAIL CAMPAIGN EXPENDITURES BUT IS NOT LIKELY TO PASS.

PREPARE TO ADJOURN

Action on Emergency Revenue Bill is Anxiously Awaited—La Follette Abandons Filibuster.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The senate today took up the bill to take up Senator Owen's corrupt practices bill, which would greatly curtail campaign expenditures and impose heavy penalties for violation of its terms.

Seven republicans voted with democrats to take up the bill and seven democrats voted against the motion. There has been a lively fight against the bill during the session, but both charges and countercharges have been made. The vote to take it up today does not necessarily delay its adjournment.

The only other important piece of legislation in the way of adjournment, which probably will occur tomorrow, or possibly even late today, was the moving out today of house and senate differences on the administration emergency revenue bill.

High School Taxed BY BIG ENROLLMENT

Largest Attendance in History of School Causes Overcrowding of the Old Building.

The enrollment at the Janesville high school was increased today to 488, making the largest attendance in the school's history.

There are forty more than at this time last year. The enrollment by classes shows: 171 freshmen, 139 sophomores, 104 juniors and 72 seniors. Of these 104 juniors and 72 seniors in rural districts about Janesville, while there has been a transfer from other schools to the high school of twenty-six students, thirty-seven from all other schools here and in other cities.

The main assembly room of the school was designed to accommodate 350 students, so with an excess of over one hundred the school officials are forced to sacrifice all the ideals that modern pedagogy and sanitation have evolved in order to make room for the large number of students.

WATERWAYS MEETING FOR PREPAREDNESS OF UNITED STATES

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—A mighty battle for deeper waterways, "for commerce and national defense," will be fought here on every coast today when delegates from every coastal state will assemble in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel for the Philadelphia convention of the Atlantic Deepwaterways Association.

With adequate preparedness against commercial or international war being so agitated, the managers have set the scenes for what they declare will be the most important and successful gathering of this association ever held. The theme of the convention will blaze from behind the speaker's platform in electric letters: "To Be Prepared for War Is Common Sense Preparedness."

During the four days of the gathering—September 12, 13, 14 and 15 inclusive—every phase of improving America's waterways every profession by men representing the government, business, labor, the threatened railroad strike that would have paralyzed business, second, build to prepare against international strife.

Tuesday afternoon's address will be delivered by congressmen, government and navy officers and other distinguished visitors.

Wednesday and Thursday the convention will move to Delaware City, where a great demonstration on the inadequacy of the Delaware and Raritan canal will await them.

Friday the delegates will be taken up the Delaware to Trenton and the locks of the canal in question will be inspected.

Thursday the convention will sail down the Delaware to Chester, where arrangements have been made to receive the delegates in "royal fashion." The Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, which will be one of the main points for discussion, will be inspected.

The last day will be spent, in the morning, visiting the vast shipyards, built and building, in Camden and along the opposite shore of the Delaware.

Secretary of the Navy, Daniels will deliver an address at the League Island Navy Yard in the afternoon. Marine drills, maneuvers and other exercises will be held.

President Wilson is expected to attend at some stage of the convention though a definite date has not been set.

The intercoastal waterway as a means of defense will be one of the biggest subjects. Taking advantage of the present craving for preparedness, the convention will urge legislation for deepening the Atlantic Coast canals as submarine stations. An end-to-end navigable chain, connecting all the lakes, bays and waterways along the coast line inside the ocean from New England to Florida, is the hope of the convention.

Not in importance, probably, will be the Chesapeake and Delaware canal, called by leaders now "the ground the 'Kiel of America.'"

The canal will be watched by speakers as strategically important to this country as the Kiel canal proved to Germany.

At least a dozen experts who have made in the past studies of the possibility of the D. and D. canal, will speak on this. Unless present plans fail, definite steps towards securing legislation for improving the canal, connecting the Chesapeake bay with the Delaware river so that it will float warships and merchant ships alike will be taken.

Splinter From Smithy's Hammer Severs Blood Vessel and Half an Hour Later He Is Overcome.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Manitowoc, Wis., Sept. 6.—John Novoy, 35, employed as a teamster by the Manitowoc Gas company, was a victim of one of the most peculiar accidents yesterday of which medical science has record.

Novoy was struck in the abdomen by a small piece of steel which flew from a hammer used by the blacksmith in the shop.

The steel penetrated through the stomach, severing a blood vessel, and a half hour later, when Novoy was overcome, he was rushed to the hospital, where it was found he had lost more than two quarts of blood.

Operation was performed and physicians this morning said Novoy might live. The man did not know he had been injured until a half hour after the accident.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Philadelphia, Sept. 6.—A mighty battle for deeper waterways, "for commerce and national defense," will be fought here on every coast today when delegates from every coastal state will assemble in the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel for the Philadelphia convention of the Atlantic Deepwaterways Association.

With adequate preparedness against commercial or international war being so agitated, the managers have set the scenes for what they declare will be the most important and successful gathering of this association ever held. The theme of the convention will blaze from behind the speaker's platform in electric letters: "To Be Prepared for War Is Common Sense Preparedness."

During the four days of the gathering—September 12, 13, 14 and 15 inclusive—every phase of improving America's waterways every profession by men representing the government, business, labor, the threatened railroad strike that would have paralyzed business, second, build to prepare against international strife.

Tuesday afternoon's address will be delivered by congressmen, government and navy officers and other distinguished visitors.

Wednesday and Thursday the convention will move to Delaware City, where a great demonstration on the inadequacy of the Delaware and Raritan canal will await them.

Friday the delegates will be taken up the Delaware to Trenton and the locks of the canal in question will be inspected.

Thursday the convention will sail down the Delaware to Chester, where arrangements have been made to receive the delegates in "royal fashion." The Chesapeake and Delaware Canal, which will be one of the main points for discussion, will be inspected.

The last day will be spent, in the morning, visiting the vast shipyards, built and building, in Camden and along the opposite shore of the Delaware.

Secretary of the Navy, Daniels will deliver an address at the League Island Navy Yard in the afternoon. Marine drills, maneuvers and other exercises will be held.

President Wilson is expected to attend at some stage of the convention though a definite date has not been set.

The intercoastal waterway as a means of defense will be one of the biggest subjects. Taking advantage of the present craving for preparedness, the convention will urge legislation for deepening the Atlantic Coast canals as submarine stations. An end-to-end navigable chain, connecting all the lakes, bays and waterways along the coast line inside the ocean from New England to Florida, is the hope of the convention.

Not in importance, probably, will be the Chesapeake and Delaware canal, called by leaders now "the ground the 'Kiel of America.'"

The canal will be watched by speakers as strategically important to this country as the Kiel canal proved to Germany.

At least a dozen experts who have made in the past studies of the possibility of the D. and D. canal, will speak on this. Unless present plans fail, definite steps towards securing legislation for improving the canal, connecting the Chesapeake bay with the Delaware river so that it will float warships and merchant ships alike will be taken.

New York City Celebrates Today in Honor of Great French Soldier Who Helped America.

New York, Sept. 6.—The tri-color of France floats from many buildings in New York City today, while thousands of citizens are wearing buttons bearing the French National emblem in select celebration of La Fayette's day commemorating the 159th anniversary of the birth of the distinguished Frenchman who came to the aid of American patriots in their struggle for independence.

The exercises honoring La Fayette's memory began at two o'clock this afternoon when Jules Jusserand, ambassador from France to the United States, presided at the ceremony.

Splinter From Smithy's Hammer Severs Blood Vessel and Half an Hour Later He Is Overcome.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Manitowoc, Wis., Sept. 6.—John Novoy, 35, employed as a teamster by the Manitowoc Gas company, was a victim of one of the most peculiar accidents yesterday of which medical science has record.

Novoy was struck in the abdomen by a small piece of steel which flew from a hammer used by the blacksmith in the shop.

The steel penetrated through the stomach, severing a blood vessel, and a half hour later, when Novoy was overcome, he was rushed to the hospital, where it was found he had lost more than two quarts of blood.

Operation was performed and physicians this morning said Novoy might live. The man did not know he had been injured until a half hour after the accident.

All along the Mexican border Uncle Sam's fighting men are rolling "Bull" Durham into fresh, fragrant cigarettes. No other tobacco ever met with such unanimous, whole-hearted approval as this hundred-thousand-strong American army bestows upon "Bull" Durham. Why? WEATHER FORECAST.

Probably local thunder showers tonight and tomorrow, with moderate winds, but probably squalls; not much change in temperature.

THE ELECTION.

Apparently the taxpayers of the state have shown their marked approval of the administration of Governor Philip by the overwhelming vote with which they endorsed him at Tuesday's primaries. In the face of the strenuous opposition that the ultra-progressive could muster against him, whether any other of the conservative state officers are nominated has not yet been decided by the scattered returns available, but it is probable that State Treasurer Johnson will be named at least.

The returns thus far obtained indicate that La Follette is victor over Johnson in the senatorial contest, but by a narrow margin that may vanish when all the final official returns are heard from. As expected the socialist vote in Milwaukee played an important part, this element casting their ballots for the present senator helping to swell his majority. Had they remained out of the republican primary the result would have been different.

An analysis of the vote cast in democratic districts showed that the members of that party paid La Follette the debt they owed him for his part in the election of Paul Hastings as United States senator two years ago, by voting for him in the republican primaries. It is one of the chief defects of the primary law that such conditions exist. However, some day it may be remedied by the elimination of the law entirely. Meanwhile the honest republican voters watch democratic nominee whom they please at republican primaries.

Taking it all in all the vote Tuesday was a repudiation of the Wisconsin idea in its entirety. It also demonstrated that the brightness of the primary and that the much exploited notion of permitting the people to rule, is really merely a clever scheme of ambitious politicians to perpetuate themselves in office. With every indication offered for the expression of opinion on questions of vital state importance, the total vote cast shows that there was really but little interest.

THE RED HEADED LEAGUE.

The Red Headed League has come to its own. Formerly it was a mere Mothers' union, but now it is a red-headed league. In fact, you will never be pretty, but if you are good, people will love you just as well. Which to the feminine heart was a sentence of social death.

But now the news dispatches are telling of the organization at Indianapolis of the Red Headed League of America. Four hundred flaming tops gathered for the first annual gathering. The only qualification for membership is the possession of a head of red hair. The owners thereof glory in the distinction.

Quite a contrast it is from the days when our youngsters' social top was tactfully referred to by his teachers. "My hair is not red," he whispered, "but a beautiful shade of Auburn." "But," he was repeating the consolation which his pitiful mother tried to soften a lifelong grief.

The old saying that if you saw a red-headed girl, you would soon see a white horse, was a precursor of the new point of view. It suggested a dim idea of the golden head. Now and for many years our bellies pay down good money for imitations of a color once despised and trodden under foot.

The red-headed man is not yet considered a thing of beauty. He used to be regarded as a merely quarrelsome, bumptious, always turbulent fellow. But now we value him for a quality that tends to die out. We all yield too easily to excitation and abuses. The power of the red-headed man to get real mad, and denounce wrongs and evils, is needed in our society. Wherefore hats off to the Red Headed League of America!

COUNTY AFFAIRS.

It would appear that the republican ticket this fall would include Lee for county clerk, nominated as a reward for his excellent service in the past; Church for county treasurer, nominated by sheriff; Dunwiddie, nominated by an overwhelming majority for district attorney, and Barrie for clerk of the court, and Smiley for registrar of deeds, by a complimentary vote, without opposition. It is a good alignment of efficient men for the offices they seek and they will doubtless be elected in November.

SOME ECONOMIC ILLUSIONS.

Washington has been assured by one of its numerous regulating and investigating bodies that the price of gasoline advanced because the demand was abnormally large and the supply was relatively small, says the Wall Street Journal. "One more congressional attempt to repeal the law of supply and demand has met its anticipated fate. The high price of gasoline tended to cure itself. Sources of supply which would be unprofitable at 15 cents were worth operating at 25 cents, with the consequence that the world's demand was met."

In spite of the hysterical charge of manipulation in the wheat market, made both in London and Washington, the price of wheat is a world matter and is regulated by the supply, which cannot be expanded like that of gasoline. The world's crop is abundant or it is not. Demand adjusts itself to the use of other cereals. People eat less white bread and in due course the supply overtakes the demand and the price declines.

It is to be suspected that Washington's protests were not particularly sincere. The farmer is all complaining and his voice is all powerful in legislative circles. There will be no investigation into the high price of wheat because the farmer is the producer, whereas he is a large consumer of gasoline. In both instances quoted concerns have demonstrated its inability to change natural conditions, and it might with advantage apply the knowledge so gained to other cases where it is undertaking the impossible task of making water run up hill.

"Congress, at the direct desire of the president, legislates that labor was not a commodity. It is nevertheless subject to the law of supply and demand. Exceptional prosperity, such as exists today in this country, may cause a scarcity of labor. The price of it a scarcity of advances, and as it enters largely into the cost of production of all commodities, the cost of living automatically advances with the rate of wages. Production is unfavorably affected by lower labor efficiency, which invariably accompanies high wages. But in the end demand adjusts itself to supply, and when the turn comes, as it inevitably must, it will be found that the employer will be better able to meet changed conditions than the worker."

"Prices never look so strong as when they are at the top, and this is true of labor, wheat, gasoline, stocks or anything else. When the market is booming it looks as if it would go on forever. But the law of compensation operates as certainly as the changes of the seasons. We do not perhaps see this so readily because we are too close to the phenomenon to get a proper perspective."

The New York newspapers continue to issue reassuring statements about the infant paralysis epidemic, in which they derive great comfort from the fact that the cases only increased 50 percent when they might have doubled.

Perhaps the reason why the farmer gets up at 4 a. m. is not so much his eagerness to get to work harvesting, as because it was so dull the night before that he went to bed at dark, and in the morning can't sleep any longer.

If you want the True, the Good and the Beautiful, Sweetness and Light, and the Face toward the Morning, just listen to the Congressmen explaining their record to their constituents between noon and election.

The fact that a strict enforcement of the machinery law would save the birds that protect the crops, does not mean that the epicures would be able to give up their bird pie.

Strong colors are said to be the style, but the men are getting so indignant that they won't turn their heads even for a girl who wears stripes as wide as those on a house awning.

After declaring that compulsory arbitration is impossible, some men will threaten to sue some one, so that the courts shall provide a compulsory arbitration of the dispute between them.

When the railroad employs get three times as much pay as an ordinary mechanic and twice as much as a professional man, it is believed they will kindly consent not to strike for another year.

An investigating habit of mind is commendable, but the results of lighting a candle to see if the gasoline tank full have been already exhaustively demonstrated.

The league ball season about now is a magnificent athletic contest, in which the principal competition is as to which management will spend the most money for players.

It is usually safe in conversation to criticize the public schools, as not one person in a hundred ever visited them to see what they are doing.

The great detective, shaving before a mirror, did not look around when the thin man entered, merely remarking as he shaved, "Have a seat. I observe that your sister Annette is dead."

"Why, how in the world?" "I saw Annette die on your hands," said the great detective cheerfully. "But something else is worrying you. I am being followed," cried the thin man, with an apprehensive look at the door. "Wherever I go, wherever I turn, I am followed. I have heard the fellow a thousand times, but he is always just too quick for me, and I have never managed to catch sight of him."

"Have you such a thing as a guilty conscience?" asked the great detective brightly.

"Why—er—yes. When I was a boy I got on a penny weighing machine and it worked without my putting a cent in, and I've worried over that more or less ever since."

"Would you mind walking slowly across the room," asked the great detective.

"His visitor obeyed, and cried, 'I thought so, I hear him!'"

"I thought so," nodded the great detective. "It is your own shoes squeaking. Go out and put a cent in the first weighing machine you come to, and forget it."

ENGLISH DUKE ALLOTS BIG SHARE OF ESTATE FOR WORTHY SOLDIERS.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.) London, Sept. 6.—An estate of 12,000 acres on which soldiers and sailors can settle after the war has been given to Scotland. The donor is the Duke of Sutherland who owns large tracts of fine land in Northern Scotland. It is the first practical step in the United Kingdom in a movement to provide small farms for veterans of the great war. The estate is situated to the west of the River Naver in the county of Sutherland in the extreme north of Scotland. In making the announcement the Duke said that there would be absolute conveyance to the state, he re-lute conveyance to himself and his successors serving to himself and his successors only certain fishing rights on lochs and rivers. A provision is that the land is to be settled by soldiers and sailors who have been on foreign service, have enlisted voluntarily and have good records.

"In Russia that I can pronounce as Sofia and Nish, and I ain't dead sure about them."

"I learned how to pronounce Copenhagen in school," said the Tall Thin Man, "and I ain't never forgot it, but it is just my luck that Copenhagen ain't in the war."

"No, it ain't," agreed the Short Fat Man. "Spain is still on the map. 'Copenhagen ain't in Spain,' said the Tall Thin Man. 'It is in Greece.'"

"Copenhagen is in Greenland, up near the north pole," said the Conductor. "That's where Doc Cook discovered all them medals."

"These Indians with the French army seem to be raising a lot of trouble," said the Short Fat Man. "I thought all the Indians had been killed off excepting them at the Carlisle school."

"What the kaiser ought to do is to send over here for Buffalo Bill," replied the Short Fat Man.

"End of the line—all out," yelled the Conductor.

No doubt her dress cut very low. Would seem to be built just for show. Our modesty, she would not shock it. So round her neck she wears a locket.

PAY HOMAGE TO LAFAYETTE, REVOLUTIONARY WAR HERO.

New York, Sept. 6.—Nation wide observance of today as the birthday of the Marquis of Lafayette, the man who turned the tide in favor of the port of the American revolution, is being made in the United States.

The New York celebration committee speaks of the day as an opportunity to honor the memory and commemorate the deeds of one of the noblest heroes of the American revolution, thanks to whose efforts France's sympathy for a cause of freedom was given effective expression at a crucial period of the struggle for American independence.

At Fall River, Mass., an equestrian statue of Major General Lafayette has just been unveiled. Exercises will be held in New Orleans today at the unveiling of a bust of Lafayette in Lafayette square. A memorial service will be held at St. Paul's cathedral in Boston.

In Washington, D. C. there will be a service of commemoration under the auspices of local patriotic societies and there will be similar services in other cities throughout the United States.

For months past the talk has been that for Fall and Winter there would be no good cloth on the market, but being connected with the three largest woollen houses in this country—Mason & Hanson, Detmer, and the Franklin Woollen Co., I have had the choice of their 1500 styles and can honestly say that never have I shown you better and nobbler goods than I am showing this Fall. The cost per yard of this cloth is printed on every sample in code. I give you the key and you get the

and it's up to you, whether you take a cheap one or one at a higher price. It costs as much to make up a suit if the cloth costs $1.00 per yard as it does if it costs $3.00. So why not pay the difference and get quality—something that you know will wear three times as long as these flimsy, cheap pieces that cost $1.00 per yard—for custom cloth at $1.00 per yard

It takes 3 1/2 yards for a suit $ 3.33
To cut, trim and make the suit 12.00

Suit costs you $16.33

(On account of the rise in linings and trimmings I am obliged to ask $12.00 for cutting, trimming and makings.)

Now take a better piece, say $3.00 per yard (and mighty few men there are who wear clothes that cost any more than that).

3 1/2 yards at $3.00 $10.00
Cut, make and trim 12.00

Cost to you $22.00

And you will have a suit that you cannot duplicate at any other store for less than $28.00 or $30.00.

I CAN CONVINCE YOU

and explain why it's the one right way to buy your clothes, the past season has proven it and the men who have bought are enthusiastic—this way. I have no old pieces or styles to work off. You go through the 1500 samples and the price per yard is on every piece. You can figure out just how much you want to pay and choose accordingly. My shop is small, but every part of it does business. No other place can show you such a large and varied line and if you cannot find what you want in this place, you can rest assured that it is not made. Come in and learn what is right for Fall at

Contest for Coroner Proves Exciting
—Church Goes on Ticket Over S. C. Burnham—Dunwiddie Wins by 1100.

Interest in returns from the primary election on contests for county office nominations on the republican ticket centered in the vote for sheriff which resulted in giving the nomination to Robert O. Whipple of Beloit by a plurality of 413 over B. J. Springer of Edgerton, his nearest opponent. Beloit's strong endorsement of Whipple and the rather large vote polled by Maxfield in Janesville, combined to effect Springer's defeat.

In the other contests for county offices Howard W. Lee was re-nominated for county clerk over W. B. Davis and Chas. H. Sykes, by a substantial margin. A. M. Church was nominated for county treasurer by a majority of some 750 votes. D. D. Ryan won over Lynn A. Whaley in the contest for coroner by about 300, and Stanley G. Dunwiddie had no trouble in being re-nominated district attorney by a majority of 1100 or better.

Sheriff Contest Exciting.
It was evident at the outset, as returns came in last evening, that the sheriff contest lay between Whipple and Springer. First precincts heard from in the northern part of the county showed Springer leading. Edgerton, his home city, gave him 93 votes against twenty for Whipple. While Springer secured a plurality in every ward in the city of Janesville, a substantial margin also secured in the rural areas. Maxfield cut in with something like five hundred votes in all five wards. The Beloit city vote and count of the southern part of Whipple, Merrill, the other Beloit candidate failed to cut in materially.

The total sheriff vote which is complete with the exception of one precinct, shows the following: Whipple, 2679; Springer, 1762; Maxfield, 578; Merrill, 699.

The other close race on the county ticket was for coroner, an office which has never been occupied in Janesville until this year. When Governor Philipp appointed D. Frank Ryan of this city to the position. This was the first election in which the office was contested. Ryan carried a majority of 300 over Lynn A. Whaley of this city who gave him a close race. Ryan carried a majority of the precincts, however, and secured a total vote of 2,273 against 1,976 for Whaley.

Howard W. Lee, Easy Winner.
Howard W. Lee, candidate to succeed himself for nomination for county clerk, was an easy winner, polling a total of 2,679 votes in the county. He carried 1,176 in the city of Janesville, and 1,503 in the rest of the county. Lee carried every precinct of the county except the town of Janesville, which went for Davis and the town of Milton, which went for Sykes.

In the contest for county treasurer, A. M. Church, who held the office for two terms previous to the incumbency of F. F. Livermore, defeated S. C. Burnham by a margin of some 750 votes.

District Attorney Stanley G. Dunwiddie had little trouble in being re-nominated over H. H. Springer. With the exception of the city of Beloit where he ran strong, pressing his opponent in every precinct, Dunwiddie carried practically every precinct in the county.

Justice Reple, unopposed for clerk of the circuit court, and Frank P. Smiley, without opposition for register of deeds, each secured handsome complimentary votes throughout the county.

The accompanying tables gives the complete detailed unofficial returns for the county offices.

FOODS THEY BUILD OR DESTROY

Amazing, but rarely suspected truths about the things you eat.
By ALFRED W. MCCANN (Copyright, 1916, by Alfred W. McCann)

CHAPTER 107.

Tubercular cattle are "plugged" in order to conceal the evidence of their disease. During the plugged period, lasting about a month, the diseased dairy animal receives a clean bill of health that keeps her from official interference for a year.

When the tuberculin test, by which the presence of tuberculosis among cattle is detected, was fully established as an accurate method of diagnosis, public health authorities did not dream that it would be used on a vast scale by cattle dealers and dairymen for the purely commercial purpose of concealing the presence of the disease.

In New York, New Jersey, and Illinois the "plugging" of tubercular cows has reached such vast proportions that in a number of instances health officials have been rendered almost powerless through the trickery practiced in this manner.

Cardmen have discovered that a dose of tuberculin injected into the neck of a tubercular cow is followed by a peculiar phenomenon which scientists call "reaction."

Usually a few hours after the test is applied the tubercular cow suffers a rise in temperature.

The fever continues until it reaches its climax, when at the end of six or eight hours it begins to subside, forming the typical reacting curve.

Cattle dealers have learned that after this reaction the tubercular cow, for a period of three or four weeks, will not respond to another test, administered in the ordinary manner.

During this short period of immunity an official test made by a state veterinarian will fail to disclose the presence of the disease.

Out of this condition has grown the present system of "plugging" suspected cows. The owner of the cow plugs the animal with a secret dose, waits four or five days and then asks for an official test.

Under the official test the "plugged" cow fails to respond and a clean bill of health over the signature of a state veterinarian is issued in duplicate, a copy being given to the perpetrator of the trick, and the other copy filed with the State Department of Agriculture.

In this manner tuberculin, the discovery of which promised, if honestly employed, to do much for the elimination of tuberculosis among dairy herds, has been prostituted to ends almost indescribable in the havoc which they bring about.

For years state and federal officials have been handicapped through the issuance of fraudulent certificates giving a clean bill of health to plugged animals suffering from the disease in its worst stage.

Milk men know that in cases of generalized tuberculosis, in which nearly every gland and organ of the body is involved, the animal is so full of the toxins of its own manufacture that it either fails to react to the tuberculin test or suffers what is called a delayed reaction.

By means of the delayed reaction many so-called official tests terminating at the twenty-fourth hour, when they should be continued to the thirty-sixth hour, have been proved to be worthless. Even certified herds have been the victims of this condition, a fact the authenticated details of which will be disclosed here in its proper place.

Milk men know that the conditions here described are not of occasional occurrence but common.

They know that the situation has become so alarming that the annual report of the New York State Department of Agriculture Bureau of Veterinary Service for 1913 was suppressed.

In that suppressed report, a certified copy of which is in my possession, appears the following provision in the near future will be made for a systematic and practical inspection of dairy cows with the object of reducing the number of spreaders of tuberculosis in our herds.

"In the past year approximately but 3 per cent. of dairy cattle were examined for tuberculosis, the remaining 97 per cent. being under no systematic scheme of supervision.

"The knowledge of the average consumer of meat and milk concerning the characteristics and peculiarities of bovine tuberculosis is very slight and it is a serious obstacle to a practical solution of the tuberculosis problem.

"Only as the public becomes more enlightened in this matter will the difficulty in checking or controlling tuberculosis, both in man and animals, be decreased."

That the milk men know of the existence of this suppressed report is evidenced by the fact that they constituted the influences which brought about its suppression.

With these preliminary outlines before us we are now ready to determine in some measure the gravity of the milk situation in general and thus obtain an adequate appreciation of the heinous activities which thus far have succeeded in retarding the activities of federal, state and municipal officials in cleaning up the country's milk and butter supply.

Drink Water Adeptly.

When the thermometer is slowly climbing upward, the only way we can keep our own temperature from doing likewise is to drink copiously of pure water. There is nothing so refreshing or cooling as pure water chilled to a palatable temperature. Children especially should be encouraged to drink freely of water. Even babies should have their regular bottles of pure water.

fine—if you drink BEER!

THERE is no doubt about it—BEER is a wonderful beverage. Note what Dr. Jonathan Pereira, recognized authority, says:

"Beer possesses a four-fold property; it quenches thirst, stimulates, nourishes and strengthens. Beer proves a refreshing and salubrious drink if taken in moderation, and an agreeable and valuable stimulant."

Those who drink beer moderately every day unhesitatingly endorse Dr. Pereira's statement. That is why they drink BEER, and that is why

BOW TO J. MCGRAW; HE TOOK THE BONE OUT MERKLE'S TOP

First Baseman's Two Great Errors Conspicuous Because They Came at Time They Did

New York, Sept. 6.—The recent trade which sent Fred Merkle, veteran first baseman of the Giants, to the Brooklyn club in exchange for Catcher Lew McGraw, nothing stands out more prominently than the manager of the Giants in making a ball player of Merkle after the latter had made his famous bonhead of Sept. 23, 1908. It was on that fatal day that Merkle failed to "touch second."

Merkle, hooded and hissed by the fans, derided by sport writers and twitted by rival players, but all the time patted on the back by John McGraw, has held his head up all these eight years and has proved to the world that he is a real ball player in spite of his lapse of memory which gave Chicago the National League championship. McGraw's faith in his responsibility for the fact that Merkle still is a big league ball player.

Not only has McGraw stuck to Merkle in spite of his failure to touch second, but after the 1912 world's series, when Boston won through Merkle's failure to catch an easy foul fly, McGraw again stood up and insisted that Merkle was good enough for him. Fans have howled and laughed at Merkle for those two plays, but always McGraw has stood out.

Merkle has vindicated the judgment of his former chief. When he perpetrated the first of his famous bad plays he was only a youngster and McGraw knew that chance probably would wreck whatever chance there was for Merkle to show any class as a first baseman. So, instead of harsh words, Merkle was given encouragement.

At every slip McGraw was ready to pat the youngster on the back and urge him on in his effort to live down the misdeed. And Merkle did it.

The work of this first sacker has been a prominent feature of every one of McGraw's drives pennantward. Merkle has been a heavy, consistent batter and a heady, dependable fielder in nearly every emergency. His slugs have been no more than players considered wonderful have made, but they have come at a time when they stood out. No one has ever taken the trouble to proclaim his brilliant feats under the same pressure, so he has been called a "bonhead."

Merkle has slipped in his hitting this year, but the averages, for the long number of years he has been a major league slugger, show he has batted consistently around the .300 mark. Last year he hit just one point below that mark, and his fielding average was .980.

Pretty fair for a man called a bonhead by a critical public.

Tumor has it that both managers of the Chicago major league clubs, Joe Palmer and Clarence Rowland, are slated for the third soaped runway before Del Howard.

Since Del Howard, former Frisco manager, has taken charge of the Oakland Coast league team there has been a remarkable improvement in the team's playing. Up till Howard's arrival the team had been dragging along poor last, but since then they have been winning more than half their games. They are getting to be popular with the fans and may close the season in creditable fashion.

MORRIS MILLER

The European war has made its millions, but the late baseball unpopularity, in which the Federal league figured, is responsible for some of the easiest money ever gained without effort.

Picture to yourself veteran John Gansel, now a gentleman of leisure, stepping up to the cashier of the estate and condescending to accept $650 every two weeks for six months! Furthermore, he will continue to accept it for five years in return for this all John gives is a "Thank you" and a kind-faced smile. John was rushed into the breach to manage the Brooklyn Feds, when Lee Magee was hit. There are only four men managing. There is no doubt that he managed to get a three-year contract for $7,800. When Ward died and the Federal league dissolved, the estate of the wealthy banker decided to assume Gansel's contract. And hence John is now parading easy street, protected from the cobble stones by not-sliding puns. And yet, do there are words by no means justifies the use of the word common.

There has been such stupidity displayed by certain members of the Nationals in the matter of inside baseball that Griffith is satisfied he will have to resort to the antiquated system of directing every move of his players with a code of signals, written Ed Grillo in the Washington Star. Some of the things pulled absolutely make it unsafe to allow them to use their judgment. There are only four men managing. There is no doubt that he managed to get a three-year contract for $7,800. When Ward died and the Federal league dissolved, the estate of the wealthy banker decided to assume Gansel's contract. And hence John is now parading easy street, protected from the cobble stones by not-sliding puns. And yet, do there are words by no means justifies the use of the word common.

Recently when the Browns played the Athletics at Philadelphia it was cloudy until half an hour before time for the game to start. It started to sprinkle when the Browns were taking their fielding workout and it kept raining when the Athletics took their fielding practice. It was up to Mack to decide whether or not the game should start. Jones will probably be disappointed, said Mack. If the game is called off. His team is going fine and he has a chance for the pennant. He undoubtedly doesn't want his men to lay idle. I'll put it up to Jones. So Connie sent a messenger to Jones and asked him to come to the Athletics' dugout. Connie told the Browns' manager that he would give him the choice whether or not to play. Jones decided in the affirmative, but the shower continued and there was no chance to start the game.

Second Baseman Floyd Farmer of the Pirates, returning with the team from the east, thought to save time getting to his boarding house by jumping off the train before it reached the station in Pittsburgh. He was thrown and badly banged up, had to go to a hospital for several days. And more than that, before he could be picked up and set right some thief came along and stole his suit case.

The Cincinnati club will have a full team of ex-Feds, nine in all, when Manuel Cueto, bought from Portsmouth of the Virginia league, reports Cueto is the young Cuban who was with the St. Louis Feds for a while jumping from the Jackson ville club of the South Atlantic league. He failed to make good with the Feds, got back with Jacksonville and from that club went to the Virginia league.

Baltimore has sent pitcher Sol Newton, the University of South Carolina phenom, to a team in the Potomac league to finish the season. He twirled good ball when he first joined the Orioles, but had fallen down lately.

When the Newark team hit bottom in the International race the fans began to howl for the scalp of Fred Tenney, demanding that Ben Egan be put in charge of the team. The Newark claim is that the team is good enough, but that Tenney doesn't know how to get results.

German Agents Balking PLAN OF FRANCE TO SECURE CHINESE COOLIES IN CHINA.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Tien-Tsin, China, Sept. 6.—German agents have stirred up much unrest among the thousands of Chinese coolies which the French authorities are sending from Tien-tsin to Southern France. Agents of the French government have represented to the Chinese that they are to be exclusively used as agricultural laborers. German agents have circulated reports among the coolies and persuaded many of them that the French intend to use them in digging trenches and making actual war against Germany and her allies. Reports of this character have been widely discussed throughout Tien-tsin as well as in Shantung province, where the French agents are recruiting Chinese.

Recently many of the Chinese brought to Tien-tsin have refused to ship for France, and a number of them jumped overboard and swam back to shore after they had actually started on their long voyage.

The French authorities have been authorized by the Chinese government to recruit fifty thousand coolies. The term of their service is to be three years.
